

HOW TO STAY CURRENT ON UPCOMING REGULATIONS

One way to stay current on regulations is to periodically review Internet sources for information.

National-focus Home Pages

A number of nationally focused home pages exist that provide valuable, current information. These pages are a good source for upcoming regulations. Web addresses for some useful home pages are:

<http://www.smallbiz-enviroweb.org>

<http://www.epa.gov/sbo/>

<http://www.epa.gov/smallbusiness/>

<http://www.epa.gov/compliance/>

State Home Pages

A variety of state regulatory agency, SBO/SBEAP, and small business environmental assistance home pages are available that provide valuable information and the most current, state-specific information. Links to the numerous state homepages may be found in the national pages listed above.
