ARE YOU PREPARED FOR INCREASED ENVIRONMENTAL INSPECTIONS IN YOUR AREA?

WE CAN HELP YOUR BUSINESS STAY IN ENVIRONMENTAL COMPLIANCE!

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has made a commitment to increase environmental inspections and strengthen enforcement to help advance the protection of communities that are vulnerable to or overburdened by pollution.

If you own a business in what is considered an environmentally overburdened, marginalized, or vulnerable community (also known as a community with Environmental Justice concerns) there may be an increase of federal environmental oversight in your area.

Follow the QR code to access environmental justice resources and state Small Business Environmental Assistance Program (SBEAP) contacts for one-on-one compliance assistance.

EPA has a variety of small business compliance assistance resources and policy considerations that your state SBEAP can guide you through to best accommodate your business needs.
